CAFE SUA DA (VIETNAMESE COFFEE)
A traditional Vietnamese coffee recipe, cafe sua da literally means "milk coffee with ice". In North Vietnam it is also called cafe nau da — iced brown coffee. Coffee was introduced to Vietnam by French colonists in the late 19th century. Vietnam quickly became a strong exporter of coffee and ranked second only to Brazil. Because of limitations on the availability of fresh milk at that time, the French and Vietnamese began to use sweetened condensed milk with a dark roast coffee. Your delegates can savour this authentic and unique Vietnamese drink, lovingly prepared the traditional way, so they can take back delicious memories.
