Peking duck - the history 施福北京烤鸭

Peking Duck is a famous dish from Beijing that has been prepared since the imperial era.

The meat is prized for its thin, crisp skin, with authentic versions of the dish serving mostly the skin and little meat.

Peking Duck is traditionally carved in front of the diners and served in three stages. First, the skin is served dipped in sugar and garlic sauce. The meat is then served with steamed pancakes, spring onions and sweet bean sauce.

Duck has been roasted in China since the Southern and Northern dynasties. A variation of roast duck was prepared for the Emperor of China in the Yuan Dynasty—this dish was first documented in 1330.

By the mid-20th century, Peking Duck had become a national symbol of China, favoured by tourists and diplomats alike.
